This study involved the analysis of thousands of real SAT questions to identify every single concept, technique, and strategy you need to excel on the SAT. Specifix Prep used this information to create a two-part Comprehensive Skills Assessment (available separately) that determines your exact areas of weakness and creates a personalized syllabus for you based on your performance. The result is a program that is better and more efficient than studying on your own. You also receive the customized instruction that you can typically only get with an expensive private tutor.
